Sarah and team, I've attached some talking points prepared late last year with input from EPA and Yerington community leaders when NDEP and EPA were anticipating the NPL request letter for the Governor's review. While some of these talking points are dated now, there are several that still apply and the background of the problem still holds. This would be good for BLM's review and for all of us to use as a potential starting place. Thanks.

EPA HQ will be issuing a press release that generally address all the proposed and finalized

NPL sites across the country. The press release will likely solicit local press inquiries for Anaconda and we need to figure out how we want to answer them. We could follow up with our own joint press release, but we will still be generating media inquiries. It sounds like we want a joint desk statement to give to any media inquiries.

Yes. We talked about a joint press release (BLM,EPA, NDEP). Unfortunately, I am not sure we will have enough time to coordinate efforts. Last time I heard, folks aren't available to meet until the following week. If everyone commits to it, we may be able to pull it off. We are hearing that the FR notice can be out as early as next week, September 8.

I thought we talked about a press release to make sure messages are clear. I am not available today.

Thanks Jeff. Just for clarification, what we would prepare would not be a joint press release, but a standard response to any inquiries we receive.

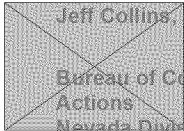

We should have a meeting as soon as possible to get our messaging together. What is people's availability today?

Thanks,

Sarah

Sarah, I agree with Gene that a joint press release is the best option.

Hi Sarah and others.....

Thanks for the note. For BLM and speaking and writing on experiences, I highly suggest a prepared joint response ready (requires a good amount of coordination starting now). With that being said, will EPA be the lead agency for all calls, inquiries, etc.? The joint response can be and should be concise and precise. Again, from past experiences within just BLM on other projects, the more language the more questions. Again, I am speaking just from the BLM perspective. I am available for a call early this week on this joint message.

Cheers

Gene

P.S. NDEP and EPA have signed the MOU and BLM is next. We expect the MOU to be in Reno tomorrow and then we can have the State Director sign and date the MOU and concurrence letter. Thanks all.....

CI Workgroup,

As the date for the proposal draws nearer, we need to determine a strategy for handling press inquiries. As you know, EPA HQ will send out a press release on the day of the rulemaking. How should we handle any inquiries that come in? Here are a few options:

1. Have a prepared joint response ready (requires a good amount of coordination starting now)
2. Each agency responds individually
3. Schedule a joint conference call and reach out to the familiar reporters who cover us
4. Any other suggestions?

Let's start a dialogue here on this issue- let me know what you think is the best option/your agency's perspective.
